^C Goodbye my love, I ^a leave tonight,
^F I know you're in new ^G hands,
^C Though I would rather follow you,
^F That's not the way that this is planned,
^C Our destiny will now be watched
^F by different eyes than ^G mine,
^F I wish you just the ^a best
^G be sure we'll meet again in ^C time.

^C By now you've found somebody ^a else,
^F to watch out over you,
^C Every new face I see ^G wasted here,
^F it's breaking me in two,
^C Maybe I should stay and ^a fight
^F but my heart calls me ^G away,
^F To that call I must be ^a true,
^G you know, that is a father's ^C way.

^F ^C ^G ^a
 I decided long ago,
^F about the way I feel for you,
^F but it has made no ^C difference,
^F they are breaking you in two,
^F ^C ^G ^a
 it's true I swore me to your side,
^F ^G
 come sunshine or come snow,
^F ^C
 But as your faithful friend
^G ^C
 I know, it's time for me to go.

^C So goodbye to all the ^a friends I've made ^F I'll never be too far,
^C ^G ^a
 there's much that I have learned from you,
^F ^G
 of gluon, mind and star,
^C ^a
 I'm grateful for the times we spent,
^F ^G
 and all that we've been through,
^F ^a
 the place I reached today,
^G ^C
 I reached because of you.

^C Goodbye my love, ^a scientia,
^F ^G
 should I one day return,
^C ^G ^a
 I'll no longer be a funds-beggar,
^F ^G
 and then the tide will turn,
^C ^a
 I know you love me as a friend,
^F ^G
 but that's not enough for me,
^F ^a
 your paradigms I'll shift, and then,
^G ^C we'll have a chance, you'll see.
